

Building Bridges between the Generations

This spring the COA and the Pine Hill afterschool program will explore a new program which involves gardens, growth and self-exploration ("How am I smart?"). If you are a nature lover or just love young people, consider sharing your experiences.

We are looking for senior volunteers to work with students in 3rd, 4th or 5th grades as they learn about nature, gardening and growing older. The program will begin on Monday afternoon, April 21st and run through June. (A "for seniors only" half day training will be held in Early/mid April.) Kate Taylor, Director of the Afterschool Program at Pine Hill, will teach the program.

For more information or to volunteer, please call the COA at 508 651 7858.
